- Altar Valley Waters of the United States (WOTUS) Issue: Per Supervisor King, Altar Valley has an WOTUS issue due to being under the EPA and Army Core of Engineers jurisdiction. Per Supervisor Chilton, the Trump Administration is rewriting these rules and regulations that should be published in December, 2019. After these changes have been published, these revised rules and regulations should be reviewed to determine if the jurisdiction issue has been addressed.
- Pima Pineapple Cactus Research): Per Supervisor Chilton, we need to tie the Pima Pineapple Cactus (PPC) to being the best available science and have it available as an educational tool. We also need to define what is the latest and best available science. We should consider contacting the Secretary of Interior and the Solicitor of the Interior. A regulation should be defined on how to determine best available science and the protocols to be followed. Per Bob Schmalzel, he needs to write a paper on seed dispersal. He would also like to conduct a workshop to view the PPC habitat or landscape that could be attended by other NRCDs. He also mentioned that increasing grassland cover does not help the PPC.
